McMINNVILLE NOTES.

A most novel and delightful manner of entertainment was that used by Rev. and Mrs. D. T. Burch, at the parsonage, Tuesday evening, Jan. 1, 1907, for the benefit of the young people. A beautifully decorated tree, well laden, was arranged in the hall.
After several hours had been spent in games and the rendition of a short but interesting program, light refreshments were served by Misses Jessie Gwyn and Minnie B. Johnson. At a late hour the presents were distributed from the "New Year's Tree," and all returned to their homes feeling that they had spent one of the most pleasant evenings during the holidays.Miss Ella Vannoy, of Manchester, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rucker during the holidays, left Monday for her home.Mr. and Mrs. Price and little daughter, Mabel, of Winchester, are visiting Misses Susan and Emma Rowan.POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE UNIT-ED.A marriage that was quite a surprise to the friends of the contracting parties, was that of Mr. Herbert Voorheis and Miss Maud Webster last Thursday morning. The couple who have figured prominently in the social affairs of the younger set are very popular on account of their many accomplishments. For the first four days, after the nuptial knot had been tied, the newly wedded pair were domiciled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs.
J. W. DeWees where a host of their friends called to extend their congratulations and best wishes. They are now living with the father and mother of Mr. Voorheis.

DEATH OF THOMAS TAYLOR.

Thomas Taylor, for many years the most prominent scavenger contractor in the city, died last Friday. Mr. Taylor's health has been failing for several years, and he, following his physician's orders, traveled quite extensively to regain his health. The funeral services were conducted from the Church of the Holy Family Monday morning, Father Plunkett officiating. A large concourse of sorrowing friends were present to pay their last respects. Interment was at Greenwood.

McHENRY—FANT.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Fant, adopted daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Simmons, was quietly married Thursday evening, January 3, 1907, to Mr. Jackson Mc-Henry, of Atlanta, Ga. Rev. A. J.
Leath pronounced the ceremony in the presence of a limited number of relatives and friends. The happy couple left at once for Atlanta, their future home. Those who witnessed the ceremony besides the relatives were Mrs. Alice Cheatham, Mrs. Ellen Buchanan, Mrs. Helen Cheatham of Pine Bluff, Ark., Miss Della C. Buchanan, Dr. J. H. Wilson and Captain Jackson McHenry, Sr., of Atlanta. The wedding march was played by Miss Della Buchanan.

1907 MOVEMENT.

There will be a movable missionary meeting for the purpose of discussing the best methods of keeping the Baptist Young People's Union alive. The meeting will start at Rev. Field's church, Tuesday night, January 22, 1907, and will close with a mass meeting on the 4th Sunday at Spruce Street Baptist Church.

COTERIE.

The members of the Coterie gave a delightful gathering at the home of Mrs. Nannie Jernagan, of Wetmore street, December 31. The parlors were thrown open to allow the young men with their fair damsels to stroll to their heart's content. Every one enjoyed listening to the talented Mr. H.
B. Stokes, who presided at the piano.
At the hour of 12:30 the guests marched to a beautifully decorated dining room, where they were served with a tempting menu, consisting of cheese fondue, pickle, salmon salad, stuffed olives, Saratoga flakes, marble ice and lady fingers. Miss Carrie L. Ewing and Miss Susie L. Dobson received the guests in their usual good-natured and inviting manner. The guests were as follows: Misses Mamie Ashford, Etta M. Cheatham, Willie Andrews, Rebecca Cox, Sarah Garner, Beatrice Hill, Sadie Winston, Beatrice D. Vaughn, Beulah Perkins, Susie Lee Dobson, Carrie L. Ewing, Messrs. Dave Saunders, Robt. Dobson, Wm. Hill, L. I.
Ryan, Robt. Martin, C. A. Greer, Richard Hill, Jr., Chas. L. Wallace, W.
Franklin, Samuel Carter, H. B. Stokes, Chas. Walker, and Dr. John Ewing Dobson.

SMYRNA NOTES.

Last Tuesday night the young people enjoyed a party given by Miss Dollie Turner.Wednesday night both old and young took part in a prayer-meeting at the residence of Mr. J. D. Sharper.
Services at the M. E. Church were quite interesting last Sunday. The pastor preached, after which all took part in a general class meeting. Our agent spoke of the Globe and enrolledthe following yearly subscribers: Mrs.
L. F. Ferguson, Miss Lucinda Drennon, Mrs. J. D. Shartner, Mr. Stephen Buchanan, Misses Mary Cartwright and Fannie W. Smith.There will be a grand rally at the M. E. Church on the fourth Sunday, which promises to be a success.Miss Laura Perry has left for the city, where she will spend much of the winter.Messdames L. Rucker and A. B. Drennon visited Mrs. C. Holland Sunday.Mr. Jas. Brown, wife and daughters accompanied the remains of Mrs.
Goodloe, his foster mother, to Milton, where she was buried Monday.Mrs. J. M. Frierson, who has been down so long with fever, is up and out again.See R. L. Perry every Saturday and get The Globe.Mr. I. J. Johnson came up from the city Sunday and is the guest of his mother, sisters and relatives.

WALDENITES.

A jolly number of young men from Walden University gathered at the home of Miss Carrie L. Ewing, of Thirteenth avenue, South, Jan. 1, '07, and spent a pleasant evening. Dancing and card playing were the leading features of the evening. They were served with a light collation. Those present were Misses Carrie Richardson, Beatrice Vaughn, Fannie Mai Rhodes, Susie L. Dobson, Carrie Ewing, Messrs. Robt. Dill, Harry Myall, Bordinghammer, Van Watson, Lucian Morow, Dr. Joseph English and Prof.
Robert Dobson. They all departed at 11:45.

DEATH OF MR. KENNARD.

Marshall Kennard, a much esteemed citizen, died Jan. 7, 1907, at the age of 37. His illness was extremely short, being only of a few hours, as this sudden death was the sequence of an operation performed upon his left hand. He rallied nicely from the effects of the anaesthetic and chatted continuously with his devoted wife till within five minutes of leaving, when he closed his eyes and without a murmur or struggle was numbered with the beyond. It came as a shock not soon to be eliminated to a myriad of friends who hastened to view him to be convinced of its certainty and then, surrounding his grief-stricken widow, they gave sympathy unbounded. Marshall Kennard possessed many beautiful traits of character, and being of a jolly temperament and extremely polite, was easily the favorite of all with whom he came in contact. He was loved by all who knew him regardless of color. Many persons will recall the joyous moments afforded them whenever he presided at an instrument and remember how insatiably they have listened to his rich and voluminous voice. Evidencing such a love for music as he did, his many music loving friends and associates flocked around him that they might be numbered with those who ever remembered and loved him. The numbers rendered by Messrs. Teasley, Samuel Moore, Ellis McNairy and Miss Georgia Hooper were beautiful and appropriate as were the many flower designs sent him. He was a member of the Friendship Lodge, Knights of Pythias, whose every movement from the time of his death to the time of his interment say much for the Pythians. For though the weather was inclement, they turned out as a whole to do him honor. He leaves behind a devoted and affectionate wife, kind mother and many friends whom we commend to Him who doeth all things well.
